Important Information Regarding LawNY and COVID-19

In the interest of helping to limit the impact and spread of COVID-19 (CORONAVIRUS), the physical LawNY offices located in Bath, Elmira, Geneva, Ithaca, Jamestown, Lakeville, Olean and Rochester are closing.

We know that the uncertainty at this time will add additional strain to our client community who risk loss of income, inaccessible resources and health insecurity. Our programs and services are OPEN. All LawNY staff are telecommuting. We are using our secure case management database, as well as other systems, to remotely access and update client files. We continue to advocate for individuals in the community utilizing the new methods prescribed by the courts and administrative forums. Current clients, individuals in need of legal services, and community agencies can continue to refer cases. You can find the contact information for each LawNY office by clicking here.

We continue to do our work in the interest of and the wellbeing of those most in need. Our thoughts are with you as we all navigate this challenging time.
